Blonde is a bestselling 2000 historical novel by Joyce Carol Oates that chronicles the inner life of Marilyn Monroe. Oates insists that the novel is a work of fiction that should not be regarded as a biography. It was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Award. Rocky Mountain News and Entertainment Weekly have listed Blonde as one of Joyce Carol Oates's best books. Oates has said that Blonde is one of the two books for which she thinks she will be remembered.

Blonde (novel) - Wikipedia

Joyce Carol Oates sympathetically explores the inner life of the woman destined to become Hollywood's most compelling legend. 'Blonde' is a brilliant and deeply moving portrait of a culture hypnotised by its own myths and the shattering reality of the personal effects it had on the woman who became Marilyn Monroe.

Oates never fails to get to the nucleus of the matter and she does this superbly in Blonde. This semi-biographical/fictional work on Marilyn Munore is a no holds barred view of the torment Marilyn suffered from as a result of her very sad upbringing and the many misogynist violations she experienced in her short life.
